

February Newsletter 2018

I hope this newsletter warm and well on this chilly February day? Yesterday we had a rather large snow flurry in the South East, which was the first time my little kitty saw snow. In a very comical, cartoon way she attempted to catch and kill each snowflake. Sadly, I wasn't quick enough to catch this behaviour on camera!

Free Giveaway and Art Project!

My project is well underway and 5 lucky people have been emailed and won free prints of the drawings I am doing each week to document the changes to the seasons in the South East England. Yes! You can see a rosebud, I'm not sure now if it will open as I suspect during this week it has been well and truly frozen but I do have a rosebud currently in my garden, which is scarily early.

Life Drawing

I am now only doing life drawing at the Guildford Institute and have two classes coming up in April and May which will be advertised by the Institute later on this month or early March. These classes get full very quickly so book as soon as you can to avoid disappointment.

However, two weeks ago the Royal Academy did life drawing live event on You Tube which is still available to watch, so I hope you enjoy 90 minutes of free life drawing by clicking here, <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RHbFyW279ME>

If you no longer wish to receive this newsletter, please do not hesitate to email me at art@claire-harrison.co.uk and I will remove you from my contact list and email you confirmation that I have done this.
